Call to Order:
Teddy Hanson, Readsboro Selectboard, called the Public Hearing for the Vermont Community Development Program for the School Street Riverbank Stabilization Project to order at 6:00 p.m.

Teddy announced that the Town of Readsboro, Vermont received $588,720.00 from the State of Vermont for a grant under the Vermont Community Development Programs. The Public Hearing was held to obtain the views of citizens on community development, to furnish information pertaining the receipt of community development funds and to afford residents, especially those of low and moderate income, citizens the opportunity to examine a statement of the use of these funds. The CDBG funds received loan been used to accomplish the following activities: To fortify and stabilize approximately 375 linear feet, and approximately 40 feet in height, of the failed Deerfield River bank adjacent to School Street, and to mitigate future erosion threats.

Teddy reported that progress meetings were held throughout the project with the contractor, engineer, ANR, and Town officials. The project finished under budget and on schedule. Becky indicated that the final reimbursement request and the Post Project Audit are being submitted.

Ted stated that the Vermont Staffing for the funding agency was very good at providing help.

Debbie Calvin commented that the project looks great and thanked the Selectboard for all the work they invested into the project. Ralf Radley also commented that the Selectboard did an good job on the project.

Hearing no further comments from the public, Teddy closed the meeting at 6:05 p.m.

Respectfully submitted,
Debbie Calvin
